Write Winning NIH Grant Proposals

Grant Writers' Seminars & Workshops was founded by academicians, for academicians to help researchers obtain formal training in how to support their work with grant proposal writing.

This widely acclaimed seminar comprehensively addresses both practical and conceptual aspects that are important to the proposal-writing process. Emphasis is given to such things as idea development, identification of the most appropriate granting agency, how to write for reviewers, and tips and strategies that are of proven value in presenting an applicant's case to reviewers.

Participants are taught to write with a linear progression of logic, which leads reviewers through their applications. It is stressed that applicants are writing for two different audiences – the assigned reviewers, who have read the application in its entirety, and non-assigned reviewers who may have read little, or nothing, of the proposal before the meeting of the review panel. Strategies, tools and tips designed to merit a fundable priority score are emphasized. The focus is on the NIH.

All participants will receive an extensive handout, as well as a hard copy of the NIH Version of The Grant Application Writer's Workbook.

Save the Date

Dr. John Robertson, PhD

Thursday, March 24, 2022

Virtual or In Person (TBD)

Registration info coming soon in January 2022
Questions should be directed to lyalya.sultanova@hsc.utah.edu

Sponsored by:
Utah Clinical and Translational Science Institute &
Office of Associate Vice President of Research

HEALTH
UNIVERSITY OF UTAH